GRAF ZEPPELIN NOW FLYING OVER ATLANTIC

STRONG EAST WIND SLOWS DOWN FLIGHT

FLYING THROUGH FOGGY SKIES AS IT WAS LOST TO SIGHT OFF AFRICAN COAST

DIRIGIBLE FACES OVER WATER FLIGHT OF 3,650 MILES TO PERNAMBUCO, BRAZIL

Cadiz, Spain, May 20.—(U.P.)—The dirigible Graf Zeppelin flew over Cadiz at 10 A. M. (4 A. M. CST.) today and started out over the Atlantic ocean on her flight to Brazil and the United States.

A strong east wind appeared to have slowed down the pace of the big ship which was flying throughout foggy skies when it was lost to sight in the direction of the African coast. The Graf Zeppelin followed a route which would take it along the coast of Africa, past Rio De Oro and then out over the Atlantic direct to Brazil. The flight from Seville to Cadiz was made in moderate time—about 90 minutes for less than 70 miles.

The dirigible faced an over water flight of some 3,650 miles to Pernambuco, Brazil. It could be seen from Cadiz for only about ten minutes.

Madrid, Spain, May 20.—The Spanish steamer Isla Gram Canaria reported by wireless today that she had communicated with the Graf Zeppelin at 3:30 P. M. (9:30 P. M. CST.) but that the dirigible did not indicate its position. The Isla Gram Canaria was due in the Canary Islands tonight.

Seville, Spain, May 20.—The German dirigible Graf Zeppelin left Seville at 8:22 A. M. today (2:32 A. M. CST.) on its 60-hour flight across the south Atlantic ocean to open a new commercial route to South America.

The Zeppelin's next destination is Pernambuco, Brazil, the second stop on a tour which will carry it to Cuba and the United States. The Zeppelin paused here all night after a 25-hour flight from Friedrichshafen, Germany, its home port.

The number of American passengers aboard the dirigible was increased to five here when Mrs. Mary Pierce of New York City boarded the ship. Four American citizens were aboard during the flight from Friedrichshafen. They were George Crouse, of Syracuse, N. Y.; his sister, Mrs. Laura Crouse Dunston, of Syracuse; United States Naval Officer Harry Shoemaker, and Karl Von Wiegand, newspaper correspondent.

The Infante Alfonso, cousin of the king of Spain, and Col. Emilio Herre of the Spanish air corps, also joined the passenger list here.

Fueling of the big craft for the long cross-water flight was completed at 7:30 A. M.

Dr. Hugo Eckener, commander of the ship, arrived at the airport at 6:40 A. M., and told newspapermen he expected to arrive in Brazil Thursday morning, although he mentioned no specific time.

At 8:25 o'clock everything was ready, and orders were given to loose the ropes gradually. As the ropes were hoisted into the ship, the Graf Zeppelin rose slowly and majestically 600 feet in the air and, with her motors roaring, circled the field once before heading southwestward towards Cadiz, the open sea and South America.

The Graf Zeppelin arrived here at 5:45 P. M. yesterday (11:45 A. M. CST.) after a flight of 25 hours, 27 minutes from Friedrichshafen, Germany, its home port.

Only one small storm near Basle, Switzerland, and the intense heat along the African coast caused any unpleasantness. All passengers and members of the crew were cheerful.

The Infante Alfonso, cousin of King Alfonso XIII of Spain, joined the passengers here. He wanted to go aboard the dirigible soon after it landed yesterday, but was prevented from doing so by Dr. Eckener's strict orders that none could board the ship. The Infante said he was eager to start on the Pernambuco voyage, which will require approximately 60 hours.

Dr. Eckener paid a courtesy call to the African Mediterranean coast on his voyage here yesterday. After touching the coast of Spain at Cape Palos, the commander flew down the Sierra Nevada mountains to Gibraltar and Cadiz before turning northward again to Seville.

LIFE WITH CRUZE WAS ONE BIG PARTY AFTER ANOTHER

Hollywood, Calif., May 20.—(U.P.)—Life with him was just one big party after another, Betty Campson, motion picture star, testified today in gaining a divorce from James Cruze, well known producer.

Guests sometimes would start arriving at noon, would swell to 50 or 60 by dinner and still would be going strong at the time breakfast usually is served, she said.

This continuous entertaining crowded her out of the life of Cruze and upset her nerves to such a degree that it influenced her screen work and once sent her to a sanitarium with a nervous breakdown, the actress claimed.

THIRD ANNIVERSARY OF LINDBERGH'S FLIGHT TO PARIS

St. Louis, May 20.—(U.P.)—The third anniversary of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh's New York to Paris flight passed almost unobserved here today although the Jefferson Memorial, where his trophies are on display, will be the scene of an informal reception tonight.

New York, May 20.—(U.P.)—Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh, who started on his flight to Paris three years ago today, is too busy for a celebration. When he was reminded that this was the anniversary of the airplane trip that made him a world figure, Lindbergh said he doubted whether he would have time to fly an airplane today.

POLITICAL FATE OF MISS PYLE WITH DELEGATES

SECRETARY OF STATE OF SOUTH DAKOTA IS ITS FIRST WOMAN CANDIDATE FOR GOVERNOR

SHE LACKED ONLY A FEW HUNDRED POPULAR VOTES FROM WINNING NOMINATION

Pierre, S. D., May 20.—(U.P.)—The political fate of Miss Gladys Pyle, secretary of state and first woman to seek nomination as South Dakota's governor, today rested with 192 delegates—most of them men—to the state republican convention.

Obligated to cast their votes on the first ballot for the candidate who carried their districts, the three delegates from each of 64 counties hurried through preliminary business. They were to be called to order at noon and as soon as possible cast their first and instructed votes.

After that it will be a political free-for-all, with the master manipulator victorious.

Lacking only a few hundred popular votes from winning the nomination in the primaries two weeks ago, the 39-year-old secretary of state will have to employ all the strategy that she acquired in her 10 years of political conflict to best her four men opponents in the convention.

Already rumors said she would be defeated, but her supporters said they were sure she would win the gubernatorial nomination in the later ballots.

State officials with their subtle influence of patronage moved in the background, some seen in the convention hall, others not even away from their desks in the capitol. Some of their influence, it was indicated, was going to Broke Howell, Fredrick, who ran third in the tabulation of primary election figures.

Former Governor Carl Gunderson, Mitchell, was second in the tabulations and was regarded a strong contender for the nomination.

The other men candidates were Carlo Trygstad, Brookings, and Warren E. Green, Hazel.

NEW LIGHT CRUISER SALT LAKE CITY CARRIES PRESIDENTIAL PARTY

HAZY WEATHER OVER NIGHT GIVES WAY TO SPARKLING SUNSHINE

Aboard U. S. S. Salt Lake City, off Virginia Capes, May 20.—The navy played at war off the Virginia Capes today with President Hoover a fascinated spectator.

In magnificent battle array, the combined forces of the United States fleet paraded past the crack new light cruiser Salt Lake City and then plunged into a game of war such as never before had been played in a presidential review.

With the presidential flag flying in honor of its distinguished guest, the Salt Lake City steamed out from Old Point Comfort to meet the fleet 36 miles off shore.

Two submarines appearing off the starboard bow dipped below the surface as the great battleships gathered speed for their dash into action.

The hazy weather overnight had given way to sparkling sunshine and the sea rolled gently as the Salt Lake City stood by to receive the thunderous salutes of the battleships, destroyers and swift cruisers.

The navy dirigible Los Angeles hovered overhead. The airship soon was joined aloft by more than 100 planes from the aircraft carriers Saratoga and Lexington.

In the most spectacular feature of the review a plane from the carrier Saratoga was hooked onto the dirigible Los Angeles at an altitude of 2,000 feet. It was the first time such a feat has been accomplished at sea and took place almost directly over the Salt Lake City.

The plane was piloted by Lt. Commander Charles Nicholson of the navy aeronautics bureau, who disengaged his machine after a few minutes and returned to his mother ship.

The Salt Lake City steamed at 20 knots alongside the Lexington as planes rolled along the deck of the carrier and took the air at the rate of 10 a minute. The planes wheeled aloft into attack formation, their brilliant colorings of red, yellow and blue flashing in the sunlight.

CHICAGO SCHOOL BOY ON TIGER HUNT IN INDIA

JOHN MORSE, 14, RETURNS TO SCHOOL AFTER 5 MONTHS' HUNT

Chicago, May 20.—John Morse, 14, went back to the humdrum of the school room today, a five months' hunt in India only a memory.

John, son of Robert H. Morse, millionaire Chicago sportsman, returned yesterday to take up his studies where he left off last January.

"How many tigers did I kill? Three. Father got four but I shot the first one—a man eating tiger," the school boy said with a touch of pride.

"It was great fun but I have yet to see the tiger that doesn't make my knees quake."

Besides the tiger pelts, a leopard, several deer and bear skins are being tanned in London, where Robert left his father, and will adorn walls and floor of the boy's room in the gold coast Morse home.

"I might have got more tigers but my shaking knees interfered with my marksmanship. It took three shots to get the leopard. He was just one leap away but I hit him every time," John said.

The Morses hunted in Samalpur and the forbidden province of Nepal by special permission.

ADMITS CHOKING WOMAN TO DEATH WITH RIBBON

CHICAGO POLICE BELIEVE THEY HAVE FOUND MURDERER OF MRS. MILDRED HELSING

WILLIAM PUTSCHER, 19, SIGNS A CONFESSION TO THAT EFFECT

Chicago, May 20.—(U.P.)—Police persistence in solving an ordinary burglary case was given credit today for the solution of a baffling and far more serious crime—the murder of Mrs. Mildred Helsing, who was choked to death with a black ribbon.

Captured after officers went to extraordinary pains to run down a small clue to a burglary, William Putschcher, 19, signed a confession today that he committed the murder.

His glibness in admitting more than a hundred burglary jobs made police suspect he had engaged in crimes even more serious and they suddenly confronted him with the "black ribbon" strangling when he told of being in the neighborhood of the west side apartment house where Mrs. Helsing lived.

Caught off guard, Putschcher made a hesitant and confused denial, then started a story of confession which included the boast he had "prowled" a hundred places in broad daylight before he broke into the Helsing apartment six weeks ago.

It was believed that all marooned persons in the oil fields near Smackover, Norphlet and Louann had been removed to safety today. Streams continued to rise slowly but with continued fair weather will begin to fall within 24 hours.

252 GOLD STAR MOTHERS ON A PILGRIMAGE

LEAVE PARIS TODAY FOR SIX BATTLEFIELD CEMETERIES OF FRANCE

FOR ONE WEEK COMMENCING WEDNESDAY WILL VISIT LOVED ONES' GRAVES

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Paris, May 20.—The first pilgrimage of 252 gold star mothers, most of them from Ohio, left Paris today for the six battlefield cemeteries of France on their missions of remembrance.

For one week beginning Wednesday, the American mothers and widows of soldiers killed in the world war will visit the graves of their dead, and return to Paris three days before sailing for home on the United States liner President Harding.

The group en route to the Romagne cemetery, the largest and most distant from Paris, was scheduled to reach Verdun before nightfall. Another group, en route to the Somme cemetery, planned to see the spot in the Compeigne Forest where the armistice was signed.

Luxurious automobiles, with two American army officers, an interpreter, and a trained nurse on each, were used for the tours of the battlefields.

There are more than 1,100 war widows or mothers who will not be able to kneel at the tomb of their husband or son, for even after ten years of searching, there still are that many bodies missing. Many of them may have been buried in the French Orgerman cemeteries by mistake.

Mrs. Mary Whalen of Cleveland, a member of the group of war mothers visiting the Argonne, was the first to require hospital attention. She was ordered to spend a few days resting at the American hospital although the nurses said she probably would be able to rejoin the group at Verdun soon.

MINNEAPOLIS FAILS OF HALF MILLION MARK

Minneapolis, May 20.—(U.P.)—Minneapolis' official population in the 1930 census was reported today as 462,611. This was an increase of 21 per cent over the 1920 figure of 380,562.

The population of Minneapolis lost out by nearly 35,000 in their drive to better the 500,000 mark. The figure represented an increase of 21 per cent over the 1920 total.

The population of Minneapolis rose 79,000 from 1910 to 1920 and the 82,000 increase in 1930 continued the same approximate rate of growth. The percentage of increase, however, dropped five per cent from the 26 per cent, the mark set between 1910 and 1920.

The last days of the census taking in Minneapolis were marked by an intensive drive of civic and business organizations to increase the census total. Checks taken by newspapers led citizens to believe that many persons had been missed and that their enumeration would bring the total to 500,000.

PROVIDING THAT THERE IS NO FILIBUSTER ON

ADMINISTRATION SHOWS IT HAS ENOUGH SENATE VOTES

DEFEATED A DEMOCRATIC-INDEPENDENT REPUBLICAN COALITION MOVE

By PAUL R. MALLON (United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, May 20.—Unless the democrats filibuster against the tariff bill, it appeared likely today that measure may be passed by congress within the next two weeks and sent to the White House for signature.

The administration showed late yesterday it had enough senate votes to pass the measure when it defeated a democratic-independent republican coalition move to insist upon the debenture plan of farm relief and repeal of the flexible provision.

Four democrats who suffered a change of heart since the votes were taken on these two propositions last October, together with Vice President Curtis who broke a tie, gave victory to the administration republicans. The vote against the debenture was 43 to 41, and against the flexible, 43 to 42.

Elated by their unexpected victory, republican leaders called for another conference with members of the house at 2 P. M. today. Then final work on the bill will be undertaken. It is almost a foregone conclusion that the debenture will be eliminated and the flexible clause compromised. Virtually all other provisions already have been compromised.

The four democrats who changed front and supported the administration were Dill of Washington, Fletcher and Trammell of Florida and Broussard of Louisiana—all of whom are vitally interested in local rates in the bill. Dill is interested in lumber, Fletcher and Trammell in vegetables, and Broussard in sugar.

In the face of temporary defeat, the coalitionists indicated they have not given up. It is doubtful, however, in view of the new lineup, whether a determined stand can be made against the compromise form of the bill unless they filibuster.

The alleged lobby activities of Republican National Chairman Claudius Huston, forgotten of late in the maze of senate controversy over the tariff and supreme court appointments, received new attention today. Senators intimate there will be further demands for his resignation.

The Huston case—revolving around money given him for the Tennessee River Improvement Association and used, according to testimony, to bolster his own stock account, though repaid later—gained new attention as the senate lobby committee prepared to issue its report. The document was sent to the printer today.

The long-awaited report on Huston's activities, according to Senator Walsh, democrat, Montana, who drafted it, will be submitted to the senate tomorrow.

Meanwhile, the committee planned today to continue its questioning of Superintendent F. Scott McBride of the Anti-Saloon League. The line of interrogation today was not definitely indicated in advance.

The nomination of Owen J. Roberts of Philadelphia to be an associate justice of the U. S. supreme court today faced a senate which only recently rejected President Hoover's appointment of Judge John J. Parker of North Carolina.

With a unanimously favorable report from the senate judiciary committee behind him, however, it was freely predicted that Roberts would not meet with such a fate.

Railroad consolidation measures too, were on the senate calendar today. Bills on the consent calendar occupied the house, which is marking time while it awaits a final adjustment of pending tariff differences by the house and senate conferees.

Hearings on the London naval treaty were scheduled for resumption today by both the senate foreign relations and naval affairs committees.

For the house side, the naval affairs committee planned to continue its hearings on sites for a naval dirigible base on the Pacific coast. The banking and currency committee was scheduled to continue its inquiry into branch and chain banking.

POLICE COMMISSIONER WHALEN HAS RESIGNED

New York, May 20.—(U.P.)—Police Commissioner Grover Whalen resigned today.

The resignation of the man who left a $100,000 position to head the city's police at a salary of $10,000 a year had been expected for some time. Whalen handed his resignation to Mayor James J. Walker at city hall.

The mayor made no announcement concerning Whalen's successor. The resignation, he said, will take effect at noon tomorrow.

WILLIAM PUTSCHER, 19, SIGNS A CONFESSION TO THAT EFFECT

Chicago, May 20.—(U.P.)—Police persistence in solving an ordinary burglary case was given credit today for the solution of a baffling and far more serious crime—the murder of Mrs. Mildred Helsing, who was choked to death with a black ribbon.

Captured after officers went to extraordinary pains to run down a small clue to a burglary, William Putschcher, 19, signed a confession today that he committed the murder.

His glibness in admitting more than a hundred burglary jobs made police suspect he had engaged in crimes even more serious and they suddenly confronted him with the "black ribbon" strangling when he told of being in the neighborhood of the west side apartment house where Mrs. Helsing lived.

Caught off guard, Putschcher made a hesitant and confused denial, then started a story of confession which included the boast he had "provided" a hundred places in broad daylight before he broke into the Helsing apartment six weeks ago.

252 GOLD STAR MOTHERS ON A PILGRIMAGE

LEAVE PARIS TODAY FOR SIX BATTLEFIELD CEMETERIES OF FRANCE

FOR ONE WEEK COMMENCING WEDNESDAY WILL VISIT LOVED ONES' GRAVES

By RALPH HEINZEN (United Press Staff Correspondent)

Paris, May 20.—The first pilgrimage of 252 gold star mothers, most of them from Ohio, left Paris today for the six battlefield cemeteries of France on their missions of remembrance.

For one week beginning Wednesday, the American mothers and widows of soldiers killed in the world war will visit the graves of their dead, and return to Paris three days before sailing for home on the United States liner President Harding.

The group en route to the Romagne cemetery, the largest and most distant from Paris, was scheduled to reach Verdun before nightfall. Another group, en route to the Somme cemetery, planned to see the spot in the Compeigne Forest where the armistice was signed.

Luxurious automobiles, with two American army officers, an interpreter, and a trained nurse on each, were used for the tours of the battlefields.

"There are more than 1,100 war widows or mothers who will not be able to kneel at the tomb of their husband or son, for even after ten years of searching, there still are that many bodies missing. Many of them may have been buried in the French Orgerman cemeteries by mistake."

Mrs. Mary Whalen of Cleveland, a member of the group of war mothers visiting the Argonne, was the first to require hospital attention. She was ordered to spend a few days resting at the American hospital although the nurses said she probably would be able to rejoin the group at Verdun soon.

MINNEAPOLIS FAILS OF HALF MILLION MARK

Minneapolis, May 20.—(U.P.)—Minneapolis' official population in the 1930 census was reported today as 462,611. This was an increase of 82,048 over the 1920 figure of 380,562.

Minneapolis citizens lost out by nearly 38,000 in their drive to better the 500,000 mark. The figure represented an increase of 21 per cent over the 1920 total.

The population of Minneapolis rose 79,000 from 1910 to 1920 and the 82,000 increase in 1930 continued the same approximate rate of growth. The percentage of increase, however, dropped five per cent from the 26 per cent, the mark set between 1910 and 1920.

The last days of the census taking in Minneapolis were marked by an intensive drive of civic and business organizations to increase the census total. Checks taken by newspapers led citizens to believe that many persons had been missed and that their enumeration would bring the total to 500,000.

PROVIDING THAT THERE IS NO FILIBUSTER ON

ADMINISTRATION SHOWS IT HAS ENOUGH SENATE VOTES

DEFEATED A DEMOCRATIC-INDEPENDENT REPUBLICAN COALITION MOVE

By PAUL R. MALLON (United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, May 20.—Unless the democrats filibuster against the tariff bill, it appeared likely today that measure may be passed by congress within the next two weeks and sent to the White House for signature.

The administration showed late yesterday it had enough senate votes to pass the measure when it defeated a democratic-independent republican coalition move to insist upon the debenture plan of farm relief and repeal of the flexible provision.

Four democrats who suffered a change of heart since the votes were taken on these two propositions last October, together with Vice President Curtis who broke a tie, gave victory to the administration republicans. The vote against the debenture was 43 to 41, and against the flexible, 43 to 42.

Elated by their unexpected victory, republican leaders called for another conference with members of the house at 2 P. M. today. Then final work on the bill will be undertaken. It is almost a foregone conclusion that the debenture will be eliminated and the flexible clause compromised. Virtually all other provisions already have been compromised.

The four democrats who changed front and supported the administration were Dill of Washington, Fletcher and Trammell of Florida and Broussard of Louisiana—all of whom are vitally interested in local rates in the bill. Dill is interested in lumber, Fletcher and Trammell in vegetables, and Broussard in sugar.

In the face of temporary defeat, the coalitionists indicated they have not given up. It is doubtful, however, in view of the new lineup, whether a determined stand can be made against the compromise form of the bill unless they filibuster.

The alleged lobby activities of Republican National Chairman Claudius Huston, forgotten of late in the maze of senate controversy over the tariff and supreme court appointments, received new attention today. Senators intimate there will be further demands for his resignation.

The Huston case—revolving around money given him for the Tennessee River Improvement Association and used, according to testimony, to bolster his own stock account, though repaid later—gained new attention as the senate lobby committee prepared to issue its report. The document was sent to the printer today.

The long-awaited report on Huston's activities, according to Senator Walsh, democrat, Montana, who drafted it, will be submitted to the senate tomorrow.

Meanwhile, the committee planned today to continue its questioning of Superintendent F. Scott McBride of the Anti-Saloon League. The line of interrogation today was not definitely indicated in advance.

The nomination of Owen J. Roberts of Philadelphia to be an associate justice of the U. S. supreme court today faced a senate which only recently rejected President Hoover's appointment of Judge John J. Parker of North Carolina.

With a unanimously favorable report from the senate judiciary committee behind him, however, it was freely predicted that Roberts would not meet with such a fate.

Railroad consolidation measures too, were on the senate calendar today.

Bills on the consent calendar occupied the house, which is marking time while it awaits a final adjustment of pending tariff differences by the house and senate conferees.

Hearings on the London naval treaty were scheduled for resumption today by both the senate foreign relations and naval affairs committees.

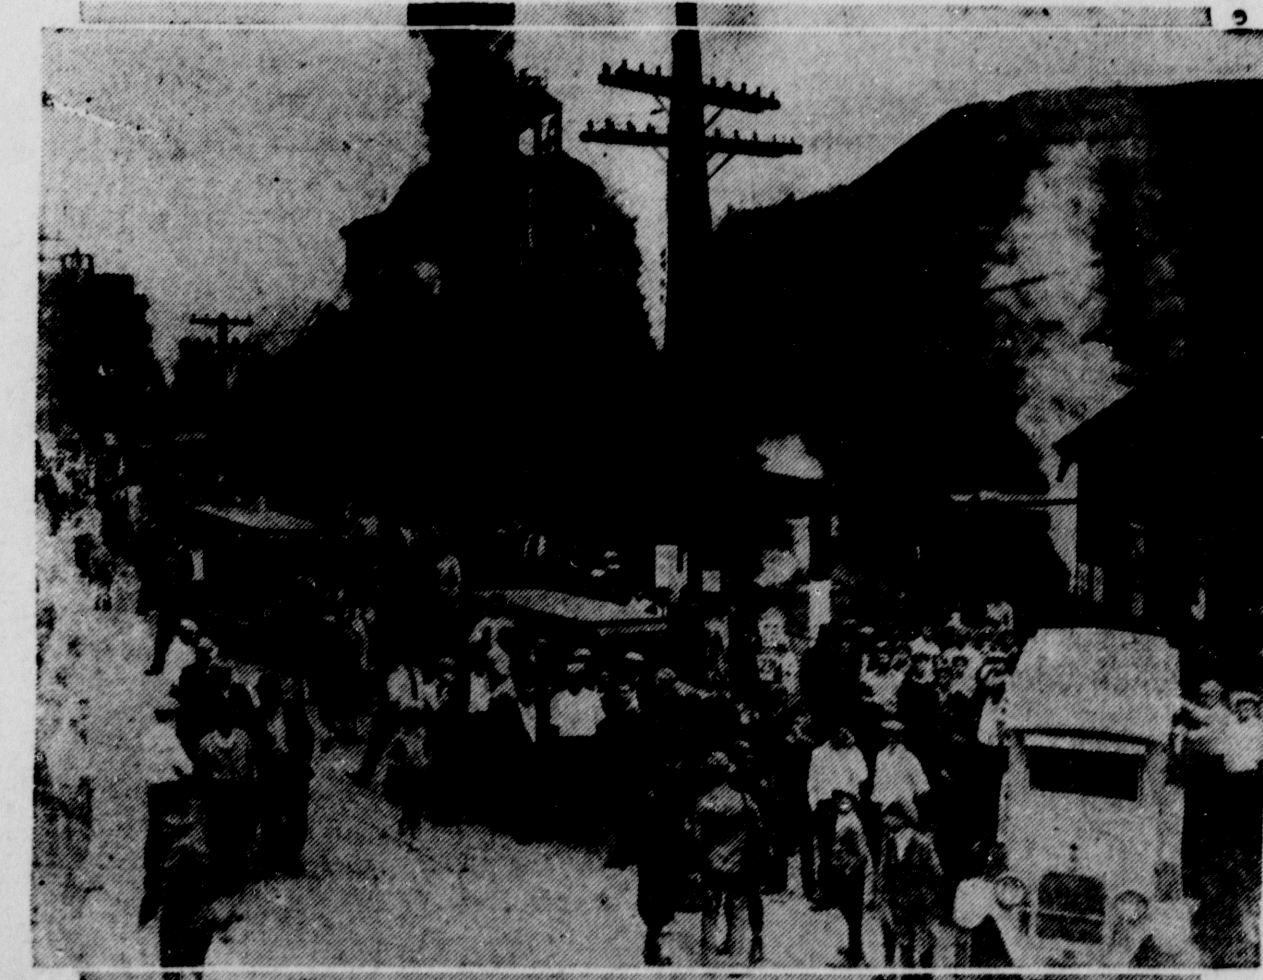

For the house side, the naval affairs committee planned to continue its hearings on sites for a naval dirigible base on the Pacific coast. The banking and currency committee was scheduled to continue its inquiry into branch and chain banking.

POLICE COMMISSIONER WHALEN HAS RESIGNED

New York, May 20.—(U.P.)—Police Commissioner Grover Whalen resigned today.

The resignation of the man who left a $100,000 position to head the city's police at a salary of $10,000 a year had been expected for some time. Whalen handed his resignation to Mayor James J. Walker at city hall.

The mayor made no announcement concerning Whalen's successor. The resignation, he said, will take effect at noon tomorrow.

Tailored Silk Frock Is in Picture for Spring

Tailored silks are the bread and butter of the spring clothes, says the Woman's Home Companion. In checked spun silk, a particularly smart spring fabric, this design with overlapping tiers is a pleasant style and is wearable any hour of the day. The lower tier is cut in one with the front panel of the skirt. Reversing the idea in the back, the skirt extends into a narrow panel overlapping the back of the waist. The back and sides of the skirt are circular. Sleeves may be plain or finished with cuffs. If the edges of the tiers were bound it would be a simple matter to put together a cotton print cut this way.

New Modes in Make-Up Now Demand Attention

Women of today are so frank about "making up" that beauty specialists are being equally frank in their treatment of the subject, and devote as much time to it as dressmakers and milliners give to their creations. New fashions in "make-up," says a fashion authority in the New York Times, are appearing with the latest styles in dress, and establish an intimacy between the two. Along with graceful draperies and soft coiffures are more delicate complexions.

The Dresden china type is more fashionable today than the bronzed which the athletic woman indulges in.

It is generally conceded that the effect should be that of the natural complexion, and to get this a powder slightly darker is used, so that one shall look as she really is rather than as she perhaps wishes to be—after all, the natural complexion is the one that blends best with eyes and hair.

Lip rouge calls for skill in choosing because of the difference between individuals in the color of their lips. Some are naturally yellow-red, others blue-red, and some of the happily endowed and very young, rose-tinted. The lipstick for the morning is darker than that for the afternoon, and the brightest tint is used for evening. The lipstick is of the same tone as rouge for the cheeks.

Particular attention is paid to making up and shadowing the eyes, which the small hat has more than usually accentuated. Different types and colors are brought out after this fashion: Blue eye-shadow is used for a fair blond with blue eyes, brown for the ash blond with brown eyes and the blue again for the Celtic blond with hazel or gray eyes. For the Latin with olive skin, dark hair and dark eyes, black or brown eye-shadow is used.

This beautifying process is indeed a luxury and requires much time and care in cleaning, for which there are delicious creams and liquids. The latest is a cleansing milk following the ancient fashion of bathing in milk for beauty. Then an astringent, foundation cream, rouge and powder, all faintly scented. Last the lips and eyes are brought into the scheme and the complexion is ready for the dress ensemble.

Sports Sweaters Use Assortment of Colors

In direct contradiction to the increasing formality of costumes for day and evening are new sports sweaters in such gay patterns—bold plaids as informal as ever you will see in one model, and diagonal bands of contrasted colors in two, three and four shades or tones of a color for the body portion with plain sleeves in an other striking imported slip-on. These universally seem to reveal the designers' preferences for the V neck, except the riding sweater which has the turtle neck.

Sleeveless Frocks and Short Capes for Spring

There are no sleeves in many of the smartest afternoon dresses shown in the Paris spring collections designed for women going to the Riviera or Palm Beach.

Shoulder capes which reach half way to the elbow characterize the silk afternoon dresses. Wool and wash silk dresses for sport are sleeveless, with short jackets of wool or duvetyn of matching color.

A Neighborly Visit

MOTLEY high school, as represented by its faculty, friends, seniors, juniors, sophomores, freshmen and eighth grade, paid a friendly visit to Brainerd yesterday.

It was a day replete with enjoyment, just a pleasant social community visit. And it all started this way. Geo. D. Irwin, manager of the Paramount theatre, wrote a letter to the high schools of this vicinity, some 20 in number, suggesting that Brainerd offered many features of interest to a high school party, calling attention to the fine programs at the theatre, the restaurant and hotel facilities of Brainerd, photograph galleries, etc. The first school taking all these advantages into consideration was Motley high school.

Last evening a delegation of over 30 came to Brainerd. They had a regular typewritten schedule with carbon copies furnished each participant, so as to keep them together and answering the all important query of, "Where do we go from here?" And here it is:

Leave Motley high school at 3:15 p. m.
First stop at Gorham's studio, where basketball and debating team pictures were taken.

Second stop, Van's Cafe, where supper was eaten.
Third stop, Paramount theatre at 9 p. m.
Fourth stop, Motley about midnight.

In the party were these of the faculty and friends: Superintendent J. H. Bailey, Principal A. L. Meinecke and Mrs. Meinecke, Mrs. Clem Thompson, Gus Roswald, Mrs. George Johnson, Edgar Johnson, Miss Margaret Bush. The seniors included Anna Beneson, Evelyn Coleman, Pearl Hooghlem, Adeline Hunter, Mary Kline, Gladys Lenberg, Jane Oliphant, Ruth Olson, Enola Seely, Zelma Stapher. The juniors were Beatrice Anderson, Albert Converse, Edith Haymaker, Buelah Hemphill, Hazel Hemphill, Francis Jacobs, Grace Leith and Kenneth Ross. Sophomores were Lillian Haveland, Russell Metcalf, Donald Palmer and Gail Underhill. Freshmen were Clarence Mosher and Philip Jacobs. Eighth grade was represented by Stillman Parks.

All these names are printed just to show that there is substance to this story. It shows a friendly spirit between Brainerd and the surrounding towns is worth cultivating, that it brings pleasure and profit. May the Motley school visit be the forerunner of many similar ones.

Back to the Farm

MEN who have given the matter study assert that a "back to the farm" movement is under way. N. J. Holmberg, Minnesota Commissioner of Agriculture, has voiced the opinion. His knowledge of state-wide conditions must be given consideration, in common expression, he knows what he is talking about.

"It is true," says Mr. Holmberg, as reported in the St. Paul Pioneer Press, "that in the past decade the trend has been from the country to the city. Because of the high prices of agricultural land and the money required to engage in farming on a profitable basis it was natural that many young men should drift to the city to obtain jobs at good wages and on a shorter day basis.

"But now that city jobs are not so easy to obtain and land prices are down to where the average young man, by applying himself diligently, ultimately can acquire his own home and means of livelihood, the movement is turning in the other direction.

"I believe the trend in the next ten years will be from the city back to the country, or at least less prominent from country to town.

"Of course, not all who are born in the country are fitted to that picture and many of these will continue to go where conditions of life are most satisfactory to them, but there is a growing appreciation of the fact that the man on the farm at least may have shelter and food and does not go hungry if he chooses to work.

"A few years ago it was hard to find suitable tenants in many communities, but now there are more tenants than farms in the good agricultural sections, indicating that the trend is towards agriculture."

Courtesy Pays

COURTESY and service always pay, always bring big dividends. Stores may sell the same lines, be in practically the same business, but their difference may all revolve about the matter of service and courtesy.

A farmer told us one day that he singled out a certain store for his trade because the clerks always helped him with his purchases. After he had bought a bill of goods and paid for them, there was always a clerk who helped him carry out the articles and load them in his car.

All filling stations look alike, but many go to great lengths to please customers. One attendant got a man's business for life, and it is a considerable oil and gas trade. The car owner's tire had "gone flat" and the attendant called his attention to it as he sat in his car and then took off the old and put on the spare, quickly done for he was dressed for such work while the car owner was all decked in his best Sunday clothes.

These are just instances, but they are straws to show how business is affected.

The Universal Language

"ALL cannot be musicians," says Walter Damrosch, "but all can be taught to understand and appreciate music, thus obtaining a taste of the finer side of life. Music should be available not only for the chosen, fortunate few, but should exist for all.

"Every human heart and brain should be able to respond intelligently to the blessed influence of music."

BRAINERD high school athletes of this season have demonstrated stamina and a never-say-die spirit on basketball courts, football fields and in track meets. In track meets competitors started out with a flash while Brainerd plodded along methodically and gathered first place in Aitkin and Little Falls meets. It is this spirit which wins in business as well as in the field of sports.

THE Brainerd Lake Area gained a lot of moisture in early May, but no floods. We are always fortunate in this regard and sympathy goes out to the inhabitants of the lower Mississippi region who are always faced with the threat of a flood.

PRESENTATION OF "NAUTICAL KNOT"

ATTENDED BY AUDIENCE OF 1,000

PICTURESQUE MARINE SETTING DELIGHTS FULL HOUSE

FRIDAY
Strolling, hand in hand upon the Barnstapole quay were groups of sailors with their sweethearts, listening to the lulling ripple of the ocean waves as they flowed in from the sea. Such was the picture portrayed in the High School auditorium last Friday evening as the operetta, "A Nautical Knot," was presented to over a thousand spectators, who represented nearly all parts of the state.

The story of the operetta features Julia, the belle of Barnstapole (Virginia Riecke) who spurns the love of all the sailors. On the eve of the departure of the "Bouncing Billow," a wandering artist, Barnabus Lee, (Lee Clarkson) appears in town and falls in love with Julia who returns his affections. Barnabus is kidnapped by the despairing sailors who stow him away on the ship in order to prevent his continued friendship with Julia, during their absence.

In the meantime, Joe Stout (Roland Jenkins) is in love with Nance, a gentle dame (Virginia Riecke). His extreme bashfulness leads him to request Bill Salt, an ancient mariner of about sixty years (Ross Olmsted), to tell Nance of his love for her. Bill meets Julia and by mistake repeats Joe's message to her. Much misunderstanding and jealousy results in the proposal of Bill Salt to Julia who accepts him to avenge his mistake. The conflict is straightened out only when the "Bouncing Billow" returns with Barnabus who releases Bill from the circumstances into which he has cast himself. The sailors and girls are united in the end, after a year's separation. The scene closes with the promise to many happy weddings in the near future.

All Voices Good
The presentation of the operetta was especially successful because of the remarkable voices of the principals. The audience was thrilled with Virginia Riecke's soprano voice, in contrast to the soft, mellow tones so characteristic of the alto solos of Virginia Riecke. It was very fortunate that male voices of such a high calibre could be obtained for this production. The excellent tenor and bass solos of Roland Jenkins, Lee Clarkson and Ross Olmsted were indeed a source of imaginative inspiration to anyone so fortunate as to have heard them.

The three leading Barnstapole girls, Marjorie Forsberg, Hilda Dybick and Ruth Anderson, with their sailor friends, Howard Beggs, Otto Dahl and Russell Nelson, were also highly lauded for their splendid acting as well as for their extraordinary voices.

The perfect harmony and ease with which the choruses sang and performed their parts upon the stage was commendable and showed extremely keen selection on the part of Miss Cora Rickard, musical director of the operetta. The choruses played a very essential part in the performance and appeared in the limelight nearly as much as did the principals.

The phrase "a sweetheart in every port" was well illustrated by a group of "sweethearts" from foreign lands who performed in several different ways, peculiar to their native countries. These characters were: Louise Klusman, Rose Johnson, Margaret Huston, Mary F. Graham, Lois Thabes, Clarice Olson, Frances Peterson and Muriel Bedal.

Large Cast Necessary

The Barnstapole girls were: Arlene Hagberg, Alice Engel, LoRayne Ene, Mildred Johnson, Edith Frost, Mildred Gustafson, Norma Peterson, Margaret Miller, Clara Grimstead, Violet Menz, Esther Kulkola, Hattie Zawadzki and Kathryn Saxrud.

The sailor chorus consisted of Lester Peterson, Clifford Dybick, Ray Paine, Edman Jernberg, Edward Burke, Kenneth Malmstrom, Eldred Rasch, Victor Ritari, Russell Nyland, Ashley Stanley, Arthur LeMire, Al Trommald, Joe Marchel, George Sundberg and Arthur Hickerson.

The chorus of townspeople included: Marguerite Lind, Myrtle Wohl, Gladys Hegstad, Mae Taylor, Hazel Hill, Caroline Olson, Virginia Lindberg, Selma Nygaard, Mabel Nelson, Minerva Anderson, Marcella Favrou, Margaret Casey, Lois Gerrard, Lucella Campbell, Doris Finne, Margie Enemark, Ione Hively, Emma Jean Greener, Marie McPherson, Mildred Olson, Dorothy Peterson, Gertrude Remmels, Virginia Wilson, Lucile Erickson, Margaret Prentice and Yelda Magnuson.

An exceptionally fine feature of the production was the marvelous costuming, especially appropriate, the gorgeous gowns of the principals, who with the rest of the characters were attired in old fashioned garb. The chorus sailors wore navy blue uniforms while the principals wore white. The artists were dressed in colored smocks and black tam o'shanter.

Extra Touches Pleasing

Featured in the dances between acts were Beverly Swanson, Elaine Weisz, Geraldine Boganstoss, Donna Tyrholm from the class of Miss Anita Hartzberg, accompanied by Mrs. Julius Witham.

The marine drop and wings used in this operetta were indeed excellent portrayals of the work done by the art class under the direction of Mrs. Madge True.

Music was furnished by the school orchestra accompanied by Lorraine Morrison. Ellwood Anderson, assisted by Clarence Holden, took care of the business end of the performance. Those persons who were instrumental in training the cast were Miss Rickard, music, and Miss Tornstrom, dramatic director, assisted by Miss Herwig and Miss Elizabeth Johnston.

Ushers for the evening were: Almira Christensen, Rose Gudman, Genevieve Jenkins, Martin Olson, Alberta Smith, Glenadean Mahood, Louise Clausen and Betty Robertson.

MISS TORNSTROM ACCEPTS TRACK TROPHIES MONDAY

TROPHIES, THE RESULTS OF WINS AT AITKIN AND LITTLE FALLS MEETS

On behalf of the Brainerd high school, Miss Mary Tornstrom, principal, accepted two trophies won by the high school track team when Bernard Foster, captain, presented them to her in a special assembly yesterday morning. Those trophies are to be in Miss Tornstrom's hands for safe keeping until a suitable case is found for them. They are in the possession of the high school as a result of the track team's excellent showing at Aitkin and Little Falls and are, in themselves, worthy of admiration.

Freshman track events were won by Brainerd at Aitkin and the district championship fell to their lot at Little Falls. These prizes thus represent hard consistent effort on the part of the Warriors, some of whom have been practicing diligently for several years. This season marks the first in which Brainerd has won a district track meet and now all eyes are turned toward the regional meeting at Little Falls next Saturday. Montevideo is the chief contender against the Blue and White.

Letters have been ordered and will be presented later to the following two-year men: B. Foster, A. Abrahamson, M. Lammon, J. Hoffbauer, W. Schuety. As first year letter men, K. Clauson, E. Foster, A. Hautala, W. Herrman and W. Hohman will also be honored.

COMMERCIAL CLUB HAS DELIGHTFUL PICNIC

Dame Nature was in one of her most pleasing moods when the Commercial club members and advisers embarked for their spring picnic. The time of this event was last Wednesday; the place, Cass's cottage on Perch Lake. Outdoor games were played and as usual baseball was the chief attraction. It was obvious that Joe "Buller" Bush had nothing on these picnickers when it came to making home runs. A very efficient lunch committee served a never-to-be-forgotten meal consisting of scalloped potatoes, pork sausages, sweet pickles, olives, and ice cream. This was the final social event of the club year.

The Commercial club has enjoyed a happy, prosperous season under the guidance of Miss Ruthe, Miss Lord, and Miss Torgerson, and it is expected that it will leave a fitting memorial to the school.

Mrs. Patterson Speaks at Campfire Banquet

Stressing the brevity of life in her talk at the Camp Fire Mother-Daughter banquet last Tuesday, Mrs. A. G. Patterson expressed a few facts concerning the mutual duties of mothers and daughters. She gave much food for future thought to her interested audience.

In Miss Tornstrom's reading, homely yet pitiful happenings of common home-life were portrayed with much humor mingled with pathos. Those who have heard Miss Tornstrom read can appreciate the concentrated interest of her listeners. In response to Evangeline Twist's welcome address, Mrs. Steinfeldt told the girls of the responsibilities a mother has to her children.

These talks and readings were part of the entertainment provided by the committee after a delicious lunch prepared by Miss Haug and Miss Walkup had been served by Mary Hoffman, Joyce Smith and Barbara Zapffe.

Students and faculty of the Brainerd high school wish to extend sincere sympathy to Robert and Joe Armstrong whose mother passed away on Sunday.

The new school—it's picture is in the Annual.

COMING OR GOING WE CATCH 'EM

Miss Filk and Miss Farrankop spent the week-end in Northfield, Minn., where they attended the May Fete presented by the Women's Athletic Association of Carleton College.

Elizabeth and George Irvine sojourned at their summer cottage on Crow Wing lake over the week-end.

Claude Holden spent the week-end at Hackensack on a fishing trip.

For many mishaps, John and Marie Hoffbauer, with their parents, late Sunday reached Mille Lacs lake where they fished without luck.

I'd walk a mile for a 1930 yearbook.

B. H. S. TRACKMEN WIN THE DISTRICT TRACK MEET SAT.

BRAINERD SCORES 39 POINTS—CROSBY-IRONTON SECOND WITH 35 POINTS

Nosing out their nearest rival in the closing events of the day enabled the Blue and White trackmen to score their second track trophy of the year at Little Falls. As champions of the Eleventh District, last Saturday afternoon the locals netted 39 points to capture the annual affair. As a result Brainerd high will represent the 11th district at the Regional meet this coming Saturday, also to be staged on the down-river track.

As in football and in the cage sport, Crosby-Ironton came up again, this time on the track, to take leadership, but it was the Warriors' day and they finished second to none.

Coach Kasch's aggregation fought an uphill battle from the opening event until the last. In fact, it was not until two firsts towards the end of the program were captured did the outcome point favorably.

Due largely to the hard condition of the track, seven new district marks were shattered by athletes from the five competing highs. Brainerd contributed two of these when Abrahamson high jumped 5 feet 5 inches, one inch higher than the record, and Johnny Hoffbauer sprinted the low hurdles in 28.8 to cut from the former record two-tenths of a second. Running in a free and easy style with a sprinting finish, Lammon took a first in the quarter mile, while Schuety stepped up and handed out a surprise of his own when he broadjumped 19 feet 8 inches to win his specialty. E. Foster threw the javelin for first honors while Captain Benny Foster took second.

Squad

The roster of the squad included: Kenneth Clawson, Nathan Schuety, Alfred Abrahamson, Bennie Foster, John Hoffbauer, Jr., Arthur Hautala, Malcolm Lammon, William Herrman, Elmer Foster, William Hohman, Gene Swanson, George Viezba, Lowell White, Kenneth Malmstrom and Ernest Christopherson.

Placing of schools follows:
Brainerd—39 points.
Crosby-Ironton—35 points.
Little Falls—18 points.
Aitkin—16 points.
Pine River—9 points.

New Records

New records were made Saturday in the discus by Haney of Aitkin, who made a mark of 116 feet 1-2 inch; 220-yard dash by Elmers of Crosby-Ironton, 24.7; 880-yard run, Hughes, Little Falls, 2:12.2; high hurdles, Cox, Pine River, 18.2; low hurdles, Hoffbauer, Brainerd, 28.8; high jump, Abrahamson, Brainerd, 5 feet 5 inches, and half mile relay, Crosby-Ironton, 1:39.

Summary:
100-yard dash—11, Hagel, Crosby-Ironton, first; Petrabor, Crosby-Ironton, second; Brushwiler, Little Falls, third.

220-yard dash—24.7, Elmer, Crosby-Ironton, first; Petrabor, Crosby-Ironton, second; Bigalke and Brushwiler, Little Falls, third.

440-yard dash—56, Lammon, Brainerd, first; Bigalke, Little Falls, second; Wilson, Aitkin, third.

880-yard dash—2:12.2, Hughes, Little Falls, first; Clauson, Crosby-Ironton, second; Van Evers, Crosby-Ironton, third.

Pole vault—9-1.8, Monkkonen, Crosby-Ironton, first; McMillan, Aitkin, and Abrahamson, Brainerd, tied.

Javelin—142.10, E. Foster, Brainerd, first; B. Foster, Brainerd, second; Kruger, Crosby-Ironton, third.

Shot put—40.5, Haney, Aitkin, first; LaFond, Little Falls, second; Perch, Crosby-Ironton, third.

LEADING SENIORS BECOME MEMBERS OF NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY GROUP

Evelyn Fink Qualifies in Shorthand Contest

Evelyn Fink, who represented Brainerd high school in the state shorthand contest held May 10 at the University of Minnesota, placed 14th among a list of 40 qualified contestants. She had seven transcript errors and her percentage of accuracy was 98.6. Evelyn had a higher ranking than Helen Meyers of Park Rapids who was first in the district meet held at Brainerd. Alma Vogtman also of Park Rapids, who won second place in the district affair, was 12th in the list of state contestants.

The score that is to Evelyn's credit is indicative of the fact that the contest was a decidedly close one and that Evelyn deserves commendation for her efforts.

ATHLETIC BANQUET TO TAKE PLACE AT 6:30 P. M. TONIGHT

GEORGE T. JOHNSON TO ACT AS TOASTMASTER—FORD SERVICE TO BE GIVEN TO ALL

Brainerd high school's annual athletic banquet will be held tonight at 6:30 in the east hall of the new building. Mr. Kasch as the radiator, will warm up sufficiently to make a few remarks, and Bernard Foster will tout as he represents a horn. Mr. Wieland as the carburetor will provide the correct mixture of press and athletics. Arthur Hautala will furnish the spark necessary for the occasion as a spark plug. Carrol Guin will register speed while Miss Tornstrom obeys traffic laws as a tail light.

STUDENTS CHOSEN FOR LEADERSHIP, SCHOLARSHIP, CHARACTER AND SERVICE

Something new in the way of assembly calls was introduced this morning when certain students chosen from the senior class went through the ritual of becoming members of the National Honor society. To become a member of this nation-wide organization is indeed a singular honor, as only 15 percent of the senior class can be chosen, and they must have a good scholastic record and be leaders in other school activities.

The members, who appeared on the stage this morning are: Claude Holden, pres., Evelyn Grimstad, vice pres., Betty Robertson, sec., Elwood Anderson, treas., Edith Frost, Adolf Erickson, Ardelle Persson, Zane Smith, Clarence Holden, Obert Benson, Sylvia Swanson, Evelyn Fink, Richard Ebert, Alice Lind, Otto Dahl, and Rose Gudmunson. The ritual included the lighting of the four candles, signifying scholarship, service, leadership, and character, and an explanation of each of these four phases of the organization. Edith Frost talked on scholarship, as she lighted the gold candle, and Sylvia Swanson, discussed service, signified by a blue candle. Leadership, introduced by Adolf Erickson, was represented by a green candle, and Clarence Holden, who lighted the blue candle, spoke on character. Claude Holden, president of the organization, summarized what the others had given.

This group was selected by the faculty several weeks ago for all the qualities desired by the society. Brainerd high school is proud of them and feels sure that they will present to the world those characteristics which they have shown in high school.

The orchestra under the direction of Miss Rickard furnished the music for the occasion.

It satisfies! The 1930 Annual!

A Neighborly Visit

MOTLEY high school, as represented by its faculty, friends, seniors, juniors, sophomores, freshmen and eighth grade, paid a friendly visit to Brainerd yesterday.

It was a day replete with enjoyment, just a pleasant social community visit. And it all started this way. Geo. D. Irwin, manager of the Paramount theatre, wrote a letter to the high schools of this vicinity, some 20 in number, suggesting that Brainerd offered many features of interest to a high school party, calling attention to the fine programs at the theatre, the restaurant and hotel facilities of Brainerd, photograph galleries, etc. The first school taking all these advantages into consideration was Motley high school.

Last evening a delegation of over 30 came to Brainerd. They had a regular typewritten schedule with carbon copies furnished each participant, so as to keep them together and answering the all important query of, "Where do we go from here?" And here it is:

Leave Motley high school at 3:15 p. m.
First stop at Gorham's studio, where basketball and debating team pictures were taken.

Second stop, Van's Cafe, where supper was eaten.

Third stop, Paramount theatre at 9 p. m.

Fourth stop, Motley about midnight.

In the party were these of the faculty and friends: Superintendent J. H. Bailey, Principal A. L. Meinecke and Mrs. Meinecke, Mrs. Clem Thompson, Gus Roswald, Mrs. George Johnson, Edgar Johnson, Miss Margaret Bush. The seniors included Anna Beneson, Evelyn Coleman, Pearl Hooghiem, Adeline Hunter, Mary Kline, Gladys Lenberg, Jane Oliphant, Ruth Olson, Enola Seely, Zelma Stapher. The juniors were Beatrice Anderson, Albert Converse, Edith Haymaker, Buelah Hemphill, Hazel Hemphill, Francis Jacobs, Grace Leith and Kenneth Ross. Sophomores were Lillian Haveland, Russell Metcalf, Donald Palmer and Gail Underhill. Freshmen were Clarence Mosher and Philip Jacobs. Eighth grade was represented by Stillman Parks.

All these names are printed just to show that there is substance to this story. It shows a friendly spirit between Brainerd and the surrounding towns is worth cultivating, that it brings pleasure and profit. May the Motley school visit be the forerunner of many similar ones.

Back to the Farm

MEN who have given the matter study assert that a "back to the farm" movement is under way. N. J. Holmberg, Minnesota Commissioner of Agriculture, has voiced the opinion. His knowledge of state-wide conditions must be given consideration, in common expression, he knows what he is talking about.

"It is true," says Mr. Holmberg, as reported in the St. Paul Pioneer Press, "that in the past decade the trend has been from the country to the city. Because of the high prices of agricultural land and the money required to engage in farming on a profitable basis it was natural that many young men should drift to the city to obtain jobs at good wages and on a shorter day basis.

"But now that city jobs are not so easy to obtain and land prices are down to where the average young man, by applying himself diligently, ultimately can acquire his own home and means of livelihood, the movement is turning in the other direction.

"I believe the trend in the next ten years will be from the city back to the country, or at least less prominent from country to town.

"Of course, not all who are born in the country are fitted to that picture and many of these will continue to go where conditions of life are most satisfactory to them, but there is a growing appreciation of the fact that the man on the farm at least may have shelter and food and does not go hungry if he chooses to work.

"A few years ago it was hard to find suitable tenants in many communities, but now there are more tenants than farms in the good agricultural sections, indicating that the trend is towards agriculture."

Courtesy Pays

COURTESY and service always pay, always bring big dividends. Stores may sell the same lines, be in practically the same business, but their difference may all revolve about the matter of service and courtesy.

A farmer told us one day that he singled out a certain store for his trade because the clerks always helped him with his purchases. After he had bought a bill of goods and paid for them, there was always a clerk who helped him carry out the articles and load them in his car.

All filling stations look alike, but many go to great lengths to please customers. One attendant got a man's business for life, and it is a considerable oil and gas trade. The car owner's tire had "gone flat" and the attendant called his attention to it as he sat in his car and then took off the old and put on the spare, quickly done for he was dressed for such work while the car owner was all decked in his best Sunday clothes.

These are just instances, but they are straws to show how business is affected.

The Universal Language

"ALL cannot be musicians," says Walter Damrosch, "but all can be taught to understand and appreciate music, thus obtaining a taste of the finer side of life. Music should be available not only for the chosen, fortunate few, but should exist for all.

"Every human heart and brain should be able to respond intelligently to the blessed influence of music."

BRAINERD high school athletes of this season have demonstrated stamina and a never-say-die spirit on basketball courts, football fields and in track meets. In track meets competitors started out with a flash while Brainerd plodded along methodically and gathered first place in Aitkin and Little Falls meets. It is this spirit which wins in business as well as in the field of sports.

THE Brainerd Lake Area gained a lot of moisture in early May, but no floods. We are always fortunate in this regard and sympathy goes out to the inhabitants of the lower Mississippi region who are always faced with the threat of a flood.

VOLUME 8

BRAINERD HIGH SCHOOL, TUESDAY, MAY 20, 1930

Number 35

PRESENTATION OF "NAUTICAL KNOT" ATTENDED BY AUDIENCE OF 1,000

PICTURESQUE MARINE SETTING DELIGHTS FULL HOUSE FRIDAY

Strolling, hand in hand upon the Barnstapole quay were groups of sailors with their sweethearts, listening to the lulling ripple of the ocean waves as they flowed in from the sea. Such was the picture portrayed in the High School auditorium last Friday evening as the operetta, "A Nautical Knot," was presented to over a thousand spectators, who represented nearly all parts of the state.

The story of the operetta features Julia, the belle of Barnstapole (Virginia Riecke) who spurns the love of all the sailors. On the eve of the departure of the "Bouncing Billow," a wandering artist, Barnabus Lee, (Lee Clark) appears in town and falls in love with Julia who returns his affections. Barnabus is kidnapped by the despairing sailors who stow him away on the ship in order to prevent his continued friendship with Julia, during their absence.

In the meantime, Joe Stout (Roland Jenkins) is in love with Nance, a gentle damsel (Virginia Riecke). His extreme bashfulness leads him to request Bill Salt, an ancient mariner of about sixty years (Ross Olmsted) to tell Nance of his love for her. Bill meets Julia and by mistake repeats Joe's message to her. Much misunderstanding and jealousy results in the proposal of Bill Salt to Julia who accepts him to avenge his mistake. The conflict is straightened out only when the "Bouncing Billow" returns with Barnabus who releases Bill from the circumstances into which he has cast himself. The sailors and girls are united in the end, after a year's separation. The scene closes with the promise for many happy weddings in the near future.

All Voices Good
The presentation of the operetta was especially successful because of the remarkable voices of the principals. The audience was thrilled with Virginia Riecke's soprano voice, in contrast to the soft, mellow tones so characteristic of the alto solos of Virginia Riecke. It was very fortunate that male voices of such a high calibre could be obtained for this production. The excellent tenor and bass solos of Roland Jenkins, Lee Clark and Ross Olmsted were indeed a source of imaginative inspiration to anyone so fortunate as to have heard them.

The three leading Barnstapole girls, Marjorie Forsberg, Hilda Dyvik and Ruth Anderson, with their sailor friends, Howard Beggs, Otto Dahl and Russell Nelson, were also highly lauded for their splendid acting as well as for their extraordinary voices. The perfect harmony and ease with which the choruses sang and performed their parts upon the stage was commendable and showed extremely keen selection on the part of Miss Cora Rickard, musical director of the operetta. The choruses played a very essential part in the performance and appeared in the limelight nearly as much as did the principals.

The phrase "a sweetheart in every port" was well illustrated by a group of "sweethearts" from foreign lands who performed in several different ways, peculiar to their native countries. These characters were: Louise Kussman, Rose Johnson, Margaret Huston, Mary F. Graham, Lois Thabes, Clarice Olson, Frances Peterson and Muriel Bedal.

Large Cast Necessary
The Barnstapole girls were: Arlene Hagberg, Alice Engel, LoRayne Ene-mark, Evelyn Fink, Katherine Sheets, Hildegard Holm, Edith Frost, Mildred Gustafson, Norma Peterson, Gertrude Miller, Clara Grimstead, Violet Menz, Esther Kukula, Hattie Zawadzki and Kathryn Saxrud.

The sailor chorus consisted of Lester Peterson, Clifford Dyvik, Ray Paine, Edman Jernberg, Edward Burke, Kenneth Malmstrom, Eldred Rasch, Victor Ritari, Russell Nyland, Ashley Stanley, Arthur LeMire, Al Trommald, Joe Marchel, George Sundberg and Arthur Hickerson.

The artists were Richard Rice, Burton Rice, Drexel Geist, John Folsom, Parker Campbell, Ferdinand Fredericksen, Dwight Curo, George Fox, Clifton Richards, James Falconer, Donald Nelson and Fred Mraz.

The chorus of townspeople included Marguerite Lind, Myrtle Wohl, Gladys Hegstad, Mae Taylor, Hazel Lind, Caroline Olson, Virginia Lindberg, Selma Nygaard, Mabel Nelson, Minerva Anderson, Marcella Favrou, Margaret Casey, Lois Gerrard, Luella Campbell, Doris Finne, Margie Ene-mark, Ione Hively, Embajean Greener, Marie McPherson, Mildred Olson, Dorothy Peterson, Gertrude Remmels, Virginia Wilson, Lucile Erickson, Margaret Prentice and Yerdia Magnuson.

An exceptionally fine feature of the production was the marvelous costuming, especially appropriate, the gorgeous gowns of the principals, who with the rest of the characters were attired in old fashioned garb. The chorus sailors wore navy blue uniforms while the principals wore white. The artists were dressed in colored smocks and black tam o'shanter.

Extra Touches Pleasing
Featured in the dances between acts were Beverly Swanson, Elaine

WEISS, Geraldine Boganstoss, Donna Tyrholm from the class of Miss Anita Hartzberg, accompanied by Mrs. Julius Witham.

The marine drop and wings used in this operetta were indeed excellent portrayals of the work done by the art class. The music was arranged by school orchestra accompanied by Lorraine Morrison, Ellwood Anderson, assisted by Clarence Holden, took care of the business end of the performance. Those persons who were instrumental in training the cast were Miss Rickard, music, and Miss Tornstrom, dramatic director, assisted by Miss Herwig and Miss Elizabeth Johnson.

Ushers for the evening were: Almira Christensen, Rose Gudmundsen, Genevieve Jenkins, Martin Olson, Alberta Smith, Glenadean Mahood, Louise Clausen and Betty Robertson.

MISS TORNSTROM ACCEPTS TRACK TROPHIES MONDAY

TROPHIES, THE RESULTS OF WINS AT AITKIN AND LITTLE FALLS MEETS

On behalf of the Brainerd high school, Miss Mary Tornstrom, principal, accepted two trophies won by the high school track team when Bernard Foster, captain, presented them to her in a special assembly yesterday morning. These trophies are to be in Miss Tornstrom's hands for safe keeping until a suitable case is found for them. They are in the possession of the high school as a result of the track team's excellent showing at Aitkin and Little Falls and are, in themselves, worthy of admiration.

Preliminary track events were won by Brainerd at Aitkin and the district championship fell to their lot at Little Falls. These prizes thus represent hard consistent effort on the part of the Warriors, some of whom have been practicing diligently for several years. This season marks the first in which Brainerd has won a district track meet and now all eyes are turned toward the regional meeting at Little Falls next Saturday. Montevideo is the chief contender against the Blue and White.

Letters have been ordered and will be presented later to the following two-year men: E. Foster, A. Abrahamson, M. Lammon, J. Hoffbauer, W. Schuety. As first year letter men, K. Clauson, E. Foster, A. Haultala, W. Herrman and W. Hohman will also be honored.

COMMERCIAL CLUB HAS DELIGHTFUL PICNIC

Dame Nature was in one of her most pleasing moods when the Commercial club members and advisers embarked for their spring picnic. The time of this event was last Wednesday; the place, Cass's cottage on Perch Lake. Outdoor games were played and as usual baseball was the chief attraction. It was obvious that Joe "Buller" Bush had nothing on these picnickers when it came to making home runs. A very efficient lunch committee served a never-to-be-forgotten meal consisting of scalloped potatoes, pork sausage, sweet pickles, olives, and ice cream. This was the final social event of the club year.

The Commercial club has enjoyed a happy prosperous season under the guidance of Miss Ruthie, Miss Lord and Miss Torgerson, and it is expected that it will leave a fitting memorial to the school.

Mrs. Patterson Speaks at Campfire Banquet

Stressing the brevity of life in her talk at the Camp Fire Mother-Daughter banquet last Tuesday, Mrs. A. G. Patterson expressed a few facts concerning the mutual duties of mothers and daughters. She gave much food for future thought to her interested audience.

In Miss Tornstrom's reading, homely, yet pitiful happenings of common home-life were portrayed with much humor mingled with pathos. Those who have heard Miss Tornstrom read can appreciate the concentrated interest of her listeners. In response to Evangeline Twist's welcome address, Mrs. Steinfeldt told the girls of the responsibilities a mother has to her children.

These talks and readings were part of the entertainment provided by the committee after a delicious lunch prepared by Miss Haug and Miss Walkup had been served by Mary Hoffman, Joyce Smith and Barbara Zapffe.

Students and faculty of the Brainerd high school wish to extend sincere sympathy to Robert and Joe Armstrong whose mother passed away on Sunday.

The new school—its picture is in the Annual.

COMING OR GOING WE CATCH 'EM

Miss Fink and Miss Farrankop spent the week-end in Northfield, Minn., where they attended the May Fete presented by the Women's Athletic Association of Carleton College.

Elizabeth and George Irvine sojourned at their summer cottage on Crow Wing lake over the week-end.

Claude Holden spent the week-end at Hackensack on a fishing trip.

After many mishaps, John and Marie Hoffbauer, with their parents, late Sunday reached Mile Lake where they fished without luck.

B. H. S. TRACKMEN WIN THE DISTRICT TRACK MEET SAT.

BRAINERD SCORES 39 POINTS CLOSEST TO SECOND WITH 35 POINTS

Noising out their nearest rival in the closing events of the day came the Blue and White trackmen to score their second track trophy of the year at Little Falls. As champions of the Eleventh District, last Saturday afternoon the locals netted 39 points to capture the annual affair. As a result Brainerd high will represent the 11th district at the Regional meet this coming Saturday, also to be staged on the down-river track.

As in football and in the cage sport, Crosby-Ironton came up again, this time on the track, to take leadership, but it was the Warriors' day and they finished second to none.

Coach Kasch's aggregation fought an uphill battle from the opening event until the last. In fact, it was not until two firsts towards the end of the program were captured did the outcome point favorably.

Due largely to the hard condition of the track, seven new district marks were shattered by athletes from the five competing highs. Brainerd contributed two of these when Abrahamson high jumped 5 feet 5 inches, one inch higher than the record, and Johnny Hoffbauer sprinted the low hurdles in 23.8 to cut a second. Running in a free and easy style with a sprinting finish, Lammon took a first in the quarter mile, while Schuety stepped up and handed out a surprise of his own when he broadjumped 19 feet 8 inches to win his specialty. E. Foster threw the javelin for first honors while Captain Benny Foster took second.

Squad
The roster of the squad included Kenneth Clawson, Nathan Schuety, Alfred Abrahamson, Bennie Foster, John Hoffbauer, Jr., Arthur Haultala, Malcolm Lammon, William Herrman, Elmer Foster, William Hohman, Gene Swanson, George Vezba, Lowell White, Kenneth Malmstrom and Ernest Christopherson.

Placing of schools follows:
Brainerd—39 points.
Crosby-Ironton—35 points.
Little Falls—18 points.
Aitkin—16 points.
Pine River—9 points.

New Records
New records were made Saturday in the discus by Haney of Aitkin, who made a mark of 116 feet 1-2 inch; 220-yard dash by Eimers of Crosby-Ironton, 24.7; 880-yard run, Hughes, Little Falls, 15.2; low hurdles, Cox, Pine River, 18.2; high hurdles, Hoffbauer, Brainerd, 28.8; high jump, Abrahamson, Brainerd, 5 feet 5 inches; and half mile relay, Crosby-Ironton, 1:39.

Summary:
100-yard dash—11, Hagel, Crosby-Ironton, first; Petrshaw, Crosby-Ironton, second; Brushwiller, Little Falls, third.

220-yard dash—24.7, Eimer, Crosby-Ironton, first; Petrshaw, Crosby-Ironton, second; Bigalke and Brushwiller, Little Falls, third.

440-yard dash—56, Lammon, Brainerd, first; Bigalke, Little Falls, second; Wielon, Aitkin, third.

880-yard dash—2:12.2, Hughes, Little Falls, first; Clausen, Brainerd, second; Van Evers, Crosby-Ironton, third.

High hurdles—18.2, Cox, Pine River, first; Perlich, Crosby-Ironton, second; Hoffbauer, Brainerd, third.

Low hurdles—28.8, Hoffbauer, Brainerd, first; Stephens, Aitkin, second; Cox, Pine River, third.

LEADING SENIORS BECOME MEMBERS OF NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY GROUP

Evelyn Fink Qualifies in Shorthand Contest

Evelyn Fink, who represented Brainerd high school in the state shorthand contest held May 10 at the University farm, placed 14th among a list of 40 qualified contestants. She had seven transcript errors and her percentage of accuracy was 98.6. Evelyn had a higher ranking than Helen Meyers of Park Rapids who was first in the district meet held at Brainerd. Alvin Vogtman also of Park Rapids, who won second place in the district affair, was 12th in the list of state contestants.

The score that is to Evelyn's credit is indicative of the fact that the contest was a decidedly close one and that Evelyn deserves commendation for her efforts.

GEORGE T. JOHNSON TO ACT AS TOASTMASTER—FORD SERVICE TO BE GIVEN TO ALL

Brainerd high school's annual athletic banquet will be held tonight at 6:30 in the east hall of the new building. The home economics class under the direction of Miss Bertha Fink will serve the dinner. With George T. Johnson as toastmaster, "Ford Service" will be given to all diners who plan to "hit on all fours."

Ford service guaranteed, as is as follows: head lights, body, cup grease, upholstery, mileage tablets, cylinder oil, cushion biscuits, top, snubbers, distilled water. After the service is presented, Mr. Johnson as steering wheel will guide and direct parts who will respond when he calls upon them concerning their condition.

Mr. Wieland as the carburetor will provide the correct mixture of press and athletics. Arthur Haultala will furnish the spark necessary for the occasion as a spark plug. Carrol Guile will register speed while Miss Tornstrom obeys traffic laws as a tail light.

STUDENTS CHOSEN FOR LEADERSHIP, SCHOLARSHIP, CHARACTER AND SERVICE

Something new in the way of assembly calls was introduced this morning when certain students chosen from the senior class went through the ritual of becoming members of the National Honor society. To become a member of this nation-wide organization is indeed a singular honor, as only 15 percent of the senior class can be chosen, and they must have a good scholastic record and be leaders in other school activities.

The members, who appeared on the stage this morning are: Claude Holden, pres., Evelyn Grimstad, vice pres., Betty Robertson, sec., Elwood Anderson, treas., Edith Frost, Adolf Erickson, Ardelle Persson, Zane Smith, Clarence Holden, Overt Benson, Sylvia Swanson, Evelyn Fink, Richard Ebert, Alice Lind, Otto Dahl, and Rose Gudmundson. The ritual included the lighting of the four candles, signifying scholarship, service, leadership, and character, and an explanation of each of these four phases of the organization. Edith Frost talked on scholarship, as she lighted the gold candle, and Sylvia Swanson, discussed service, signified by a blue candle. Leadership, introduced by Adolf Erickson, was represented by a green candle, and Clarence Holden, who lighted the blue candle, spoke on character. Claude Holden, president of the organization, summarized what the others had given.

This group was selected by the faculty several weeks ago for all the qualities desired by the society. Brainerd high school is proud of them and feels sure that they will present to the world those characteristics which they have shown in high school.

The orchestra under the direction of Miss Rickard furnished the music for the occasion.

It satisfies! The 1930 Annual!

FOUR NATIONS LOOM AS CONTENDERS FOR THE DAVIS CUP

U. S., JAPAN, ENGLAND AND THE AUSTRALIANS

BIG LEAGUE PENNANT RACES ENGROSS RABID FANS

INTERNATIONAL COMPETITION IS APPROACHING THE FINAL ROUND

FRENCH HOPE OF RETAINING TROPHY WEAKENED BY LOSS OF RENE LA COSTE

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

New York, May 20.—Four nations—the United States, Japan, England and Australia—loom as dangerous threats to France's three-year possession of the Davis Cup as the international competition approaches the final round.

The French hopes of retaining the trophy, won from the United States in 1927, have been weakened by the loss of Rene LaCoste, who is in ill health, throwing the cup defense burden on Henri Cochet and Jean Borotra.

Australia and England are paired in the same bracket of European zone competition and meet in a quarter final match at Eastbourne, Eng., June 6, 7 and 9. Other quarter-final pairings are:

Austria vs. Italy.
Japan vs. Spain.
Czechoslovakia vs. Holland.

Japan is the strongest team in the lower bracket and is favored to reach the zone-finals with the England-Australia survivor as a probable opponent. The European zone winner will meet the United States in the inter-zone finals, provided the Americans defeat Mexico in the American zone finals at Washington this week.

The personnel of the United States team for competition in Europe is still uncertain. George Lott, John Van Ryn, Wilmer Allison and Johnny Doeg carried the burden in American zone matches and the United States Lawn Tennis Association has indicated that it intends to play these youngsters through to the finals.

William Tilden II has played sensationally during his winter campaign and there is a strong possibility that he will reverse his decision to withdraw from Davis Cup play.

SCHMELING TRIES OUT NEW BATCH OF SPARRING PARTNERS

Endicott, N. Y., May 20.—(U.P.)—Max Schmeling was prepared today to try out a new supply of sparring partners as he resumed training for his heavyweight championship bout with Jack Sharkey at Yankee stadium, June 12. Three of the four partners originally brought to camp have quit and the fourth was in no shape to work yesterday so the German heavyweight called off work.

Orangeburg, N. Y., May 20.—(U.P.)—Jack Sharkey will train for his fight with Max Schmeling by working against capable opponents. Johnny Grosso and King Solomon already are in camp and Paul Cavalier was expected to report today. James J. Braddock has been invited to join the squad.

TUNNEY BACK IN THE PRIZE RING AS PROMOTER, REFEREE

New York, May 20.—(U.P.)—Gene Tunney, retired undefeated heavyweight champion, will return to the prize ring May 30 as promoter and referee of a series of boxing bouts in a charity entertainment at Westchester County Center.

(By United Press)

The National League pennant race held the attention of the nation's baseball fans today as major league teams completed the first series of the current sectional contests.

Rain and cold weather halted all National League games Monday and the Brooklyn Robins continued in first place. The Robins are only one game ahead of the fifth place Pittsburgh Pirates.

The American League race has developed into a fight between the Philadelphia Athletics and the Washington Senators. The Senators are leading by a full game.

Neither Washington nor Philadelphia were scheduled for action yesterday and rain and cold prevented the Yankee-Boston and Cleveland-Chicago tilts.

The Detroit Tigers defeated the St. Louis Browns in the only games played and climbed from the American League cellar to seventh place, with the Browns dropping to eighth. The Tigers required 10 innings to take the opener, 5 to 4, but won the second, 4 to 2.

New International Classic

By HARDIN BURNLEY

THE professional golf champions of the United States and Great Britain—Leo Diegel and Abe Mitchell, respectively—are scheduled to play the first of "the best two out of three" 36-hole matches for the championship of the world, this Thursday. It is planned to make such contests annual events.

Diegel won the 1929 American Professional Golfers' Association tournament in characteristically brilliant style; while the veteran, Mitchell, achieved a like triumph in the British pro-championship. Both have been conspicuous in the first flight of golfers for many seasons.

Among American fans Mitchell is one of the most popular of all English golfers, while most British links enthusiasts rate Diegel next to Bobby Jones and Walter Hagen when they attempt to rate the skill of Uncle Sam's master shotmakers. Furthermore, England's experts realize that when the nervous but exceedingly brilliant Diegel is "on his game," not even a Jones nor a Hagen at his best can more than hope to outshine the luminous Leo, whose strained, unorthodox, yet effective putting stances have added the word "diegeling" to Britain's golfing vocabulary. Leo was a close third in last year's British Open. Had he attained the form he showed in its qualifying rounds, Diegel would have won that classic by eight strokes.

Mitchell is considered the very best of John Bull's pros, especially in matches where his calm, experienced play should prove the temperamental opposite of "Eagle" Diegel's nerve-wrought brilliancies. However, the weight of expert opinion favors the American to win at least two of these pro title contests unless he cracks badly.

The fear is expressed that the canny Abe is a bit too old for such stern competition. But Mitchell may prove such forebodings ridiculous. An old master at golf usually can do just that when in a duel with one whose skill is wondrous, but whose nerves are eccentric.

Don't Stub Your Toe!

One dark night—so the story goes—a certain monarch placed a large boulder in the middle of the road. Thousands of his people, thereafter, severely stubbed their toes or troubled to walk around. At length, one lusty youth—wiser than the rest—seized the stone and heaved it from his path. And where it had rested, he found a bag of gold.

Are you stubbing your toe? Are you overlooking any bags of gold? How about the advertising in this paper? Do you read it—consistently? It is a bag of gold to many of our readers.

In our columns you will find the advertisements of alert, progressive merchants and manufacturers who seek to tell you something they think you ought to know. This advertising is news about the very things that interest you most—articles that will save you money, lessen your work, or add materially to your comfort and well-being.

Thrifty men and women read advertising. To them it is a plain, every-day business proposition—a duty they owe themselves and their purses. It tells them where they can buy exactly what they want at a price they can afford to pay.

Advertising pays them. They make it pay.

It will pay you too. Read it

New International Classic

By HARDIN BURNLEY

THE professional golf champions of the United States and Great Britain—Leo Diegel and Abe Mitchell, respectively—are scheduled to play the first of "the best two out of three" 36-hole matches for the championship of the world, this Thursday. It is planned to make such contests annual events.

Diegel was the 1929 American Professional Golfers' Association tournament in characteristically brilliant style; while the veteran, Mitchell, achieved a like triumph in the British professional championship. Both have been champions in the first eight of golfers for many seasons.

Among American fans Mitchell is one of the most popular of all English golfers, while most British links enthusiasts rate Diegel next to Bobby Jones and Walter Hagen when they attempt to rate the skill of Uncle Sam's master shotmakers. Furthermore, England's experts realize that when the nervous but exceedingly brilliant Diegel is "on his game," not even a Jones nor a Hagen at his best can more than hope to outshine the luminous Leo, whose strained, unorthodox, yet effective putting stances have added the word "diegeling" to Britain's golfing vocabulary. Leo was a close third in last year's British Open. Had he attained the form he showed in its qualifying rounds, Diegel would have won that classic by eight strokes. Mitchell is considered the very best of John Bull's pros, especially in matches where his calm, experienced play should prove the temperamental opposite of "Eagle" Diegel's nerve-wrought brilliancies. However, the weight of expert opinion favors the American to win at least two of these pro title contests unless he cracks badly.

The fear is expressed that the canny Abe is a bit too old for such stern competition. But Mitchell may prove such forebodings ridiculous. An old master at golf usually can do just that when in a duel with one whose skill is wondrous, but whose nerves are eccentric.

Don't Stub Your Toe!

One dark night—so the story goes—a certain monarch placed a large boulder in the middle of the road. Thousands of his people, thereafter, severely stubbed their toes or troubled to walk around. At length, one lusty youth—wiser than the rest—seized the stone and heaved it from his path. And where it had rested, he found a bag of gold.

Are you stubbing your toe? Are you overlooking any bags of gold? How about the advertising in this paper? Do you read it—consistently? It is a bag of gold to many of our readers.

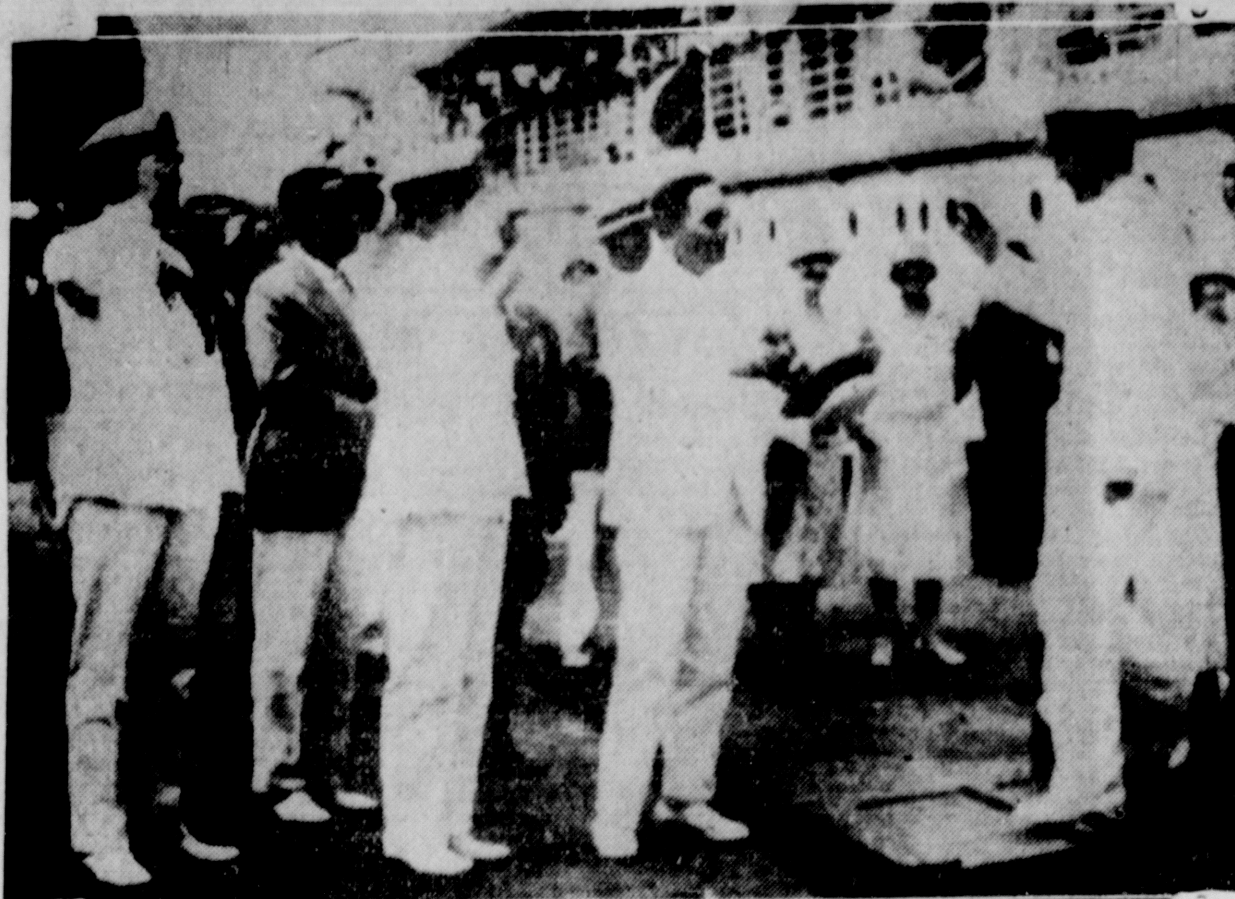

In our columns you will find the advertisements of alert, progressive merchants and manufacturers who seek to tell you something they think you ought to know. This advertising is news about the very things that interest you most—articles that will save you money, lessen your work, or add materially to your comfort and well-being.

Thrifty men and women read advertising. To them it is a plain, every-day business proposition—a duty they owe themselves and their purses. It tells them where they can buy exactly what they want at a price they can afford to pay.

Advertising pays them. They make it pay.

It will pay you too. Read it

Age Necessary to Give

Proverbs Full Flavor

Among the best known old sayings are those dealing with sour grapes, looking the gift horse in the mouth, the prophet honored elsewhere than at home, haste and waste, honesty and policy. One might say, indeed, that there are no such things as new proverbs since, like wine, they are in need of age to make them worth while. The very definition of a proverb. "A short, sententious phrase, long current in common speech," shows that age is necessary to produce the lasting flavor.

In Sterne's "Sentimental Journey" occurs one of the most beautiful phrases in the English language, "God tempers the wind to the shorn lamb." But it was not original with Sterne—nor does the Bible have it. The phrase was picked up by a writer, George Herbert, about 1640 and was gleaned by him from a sixteenth century proverb of the French, who, in turn got it still farther back from some Latin writer. The Latins, again, may have brought it down from Turkish or oriental sources, as these are rich in ancient proverbs.

Every old nation has a wealth of proverbial sayings, one Spanish author alone collecting 24,000. Spain, it is believed, possesses the largest store, though the Arabs, the Persians, the Indians, the Chinese and the Japanese also have unlimited quantities.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Malay Quick to Resent

Hurt to Personal Pride

Personal pride and the emotion of love are the most frequent causes of murders in the Philippines, leading strangers to conclude that life is lightly held here and murder is committed over mere trivialities. The current police calendar would confirm that opinion. Over love, an intermediate schoolgirl stabbed her classmate, another girl, to death with 46 wounds—veritably cutting the body to pieces, and the juvenile murderers seemed scarcely perturbed when arrested, confessing all. Over personal pride, a peasant slew a household, four persons, man, wife and their two children, with his bolo. Given to drinking, he was making a drunkard's boisterous headway past the house. The man, thinking to shame him, scolded him from the window overlooking the street, and called him "an borrachin," a common drunkard. Less than five minutes later he had wiped out the family. A Malay is never to be safely insulted in the presence or hearing of third parties.

Magna Charta

King John affixed his seal to the document called the Magna Charta on June 15, 1215, having been compelled to do so by the barons and their followers. In June of that year both parties encamped on the plain called Runnymede, on the banks of the Thames near Windsor, and conference were opened between the king and the barons. The barons presented their grievances and the means of redress. In the nature of bills offered for the royal assent. The king directed that these articles should be reduced to the form of a charter, and in this form it was drawn up by the clerks, in Latin. Many of its provisions were based on a previous charter granted by King Henry I in the year 1100.

Asbestos Peril

Although asbestos has been used in industry at least since 450 B. C., only within recent years has it been recognized that asbestos dust can produce disease of the lungs. Asbestos is a mineral of a curious fibrous structure. It is used in making gas mantles, furnace linings, heat resisting mats, and so on, and is largely handled by women.

The inhalation of dust gives rise to symptoms in some of the workers after about five years. They begin to get short of breath on exertion, lose weight, and develop a dry cough. If the causes are seen early and prevented from being irritated by the dust, much relief can be obtained by treatment.

Many Ex-Presidents

Between March 4, 1861, when Abraham Lincoln took oath of office as President, and January 18, 1862, when John Tyler died, there were five living ex-Presidents of the United States, a greater number than at any other period in American history. They were Martin Van Buren, John Tyler, Millard Fillmore, Franklin Pierce, and James Buchanan. The great number of living ex-Presidents at this period was due largely to the fact that no President elected between the election of Van Buren in 1836 and the election of Lincoln in 1860 served for a longer period than four years.

"SHEIK'S WIFE"

BY WINIFRED VAN DUZER

CHAPTER XXX.

THEY came to life then, giving a faint cheer, trailing out into the dusk. Without turning her head Eve knew that Ken had gone to Puss; that he was bending over the blonde curls, saying something to coax away the sting of Elma's greeting.

And she knew too that Nory had stepped up beside her, that his lazy, whimsical grin was waiting when she looked up. Dear Nory. They trailed along the lane, nudging a knapsack or two, frying pans, a grill, their climbing sticks tapping the dust of the road. Beyond Stony Mountain pass they began to climb, scrambling over rocks, up boulders, catching at gnarled old roots of trees. A noisy foaming little stream went tumbling along up here and Eve followed the others across, laughing as she skipped from one stone to the next with the water dashing almost against her feet.

Once over she looked back—saw Ken hesitate on the far side, lift Puss in his arms and carry her across.

Eve stood there with the scene etching on her brain. Puss shrinking from the tumbling stream, glancing down at her high-heeled white shoes—she had contrived miraculously enough to keep them white; Ken bending over her, swinging her in his arms; the little, kitten face near his; a small white hand stealing about his neck.

Ken walking out on the stones, laughing, pretending he was going to drop the girl in the water.

Then Nory moved behind Eve on the path, shutting out her sight of the two; he took hold of her elbows, rushing her pell-mell after the others. "Sun's almost up, dryad. One more boulder and a couple of precipices—here, let me get ahead—now give a hand—atta girl! Careful of those loose rocks—and watch out for rattlers. Now then, shut your eyes."

Eve was glad to shut her eyes. Still holding her arms, Nory pushed her gently along, turned her about so she felt the strong, fresh wind from the east on her burning face.

"Now," he told her in a low, awed tone. "Now look, Eve." It was like stepping into an incredible painting. They stood upon the summit of Thunderberg, on a rocky plateau with the tops of trees—evergreens and giant oaks—like the waves of a green ocean far below to the north and south and west.

A valley of misty gray shimmered faintly on the east and this was the river; beyond was another strip of green ocean—Westchester County—and still farther a limitless gray curtain streaked with shell pink.

At the lower edge of the curtain appeared all at once a thin, incandescent line, curved at the edge, and the breathers "Ah!" With dramatic swiftness the line widened, brightened, sent long, slanting rays like spokes of a mighty wheel to the very dome of the sky. And almost in a breath the sun had climbed above the eastern edge of the world and hung there as if red with anger at the mists which veiled its glory.

"Say—worth the struggle, this!" one of Elma's guests exclaimed. "Look at that—old Sol pulling right through the fog, washing his face with gold. Too bright for my city-blurred eyes." They had to stop looking then for the mists were gone and a new day had spread before them a splendor too dazzling for mortal vision.

There was a flat table of rock on which they built their fire and boiled coffee and fried bacon. And they ate ravenously, appetites sharpened by the long tramp. And Ken who had come into the clearing looking rather sheepish with Puss clinging to his arm, saw that Nory was taking rather remarkable care of Eve and that nobody seemed to have missed him. And in a slightly sulky mood he went back to Puss who had established herself on the one grassy knoll, spreading her skirts daintily and fluffing her hair and looking rather like an orchid lost in a vegetable garden.

Long before noon Chuck moved that they go. "Me, I want shade and iced tea," he declared, pulling at his collar and wiping his streaming face. "This is what we get for helping the sun come up—done brown on both sides—whew! I'm departing, lads and lassies. Going away from here."

They all were ready, especially the ladies who had spent most of their lives under cover between the Battery and the Bronx. Elma, who had brought a book of poetry with the idea of reading while the others lounged and invited their souls, made a point of having Neil Pierson escort her. Chuck despised the good-looking Neil with his wary poker face, his Broadway mannerisms and his wise cracks but Elma was flattered by his attentions and at the edge of a flirtation.

Eve felt this infuriated Puss though why she had no notion. Puss paid little attention to Neil and he treated her with unconcern; yet there had been times when Eve saw the kitten eyes fixed upon him with something watchful and perhaps possessive in their expression.

She saw the look now as Neil followed Elma down the trail and it occurred to her that Puss was on the point of running after them, of leaving Ken without a backward glance and storming along after the Tin Pan Alley sheik in a clawing, yowling rage. But if Puss really felt any such impulse it was over in a flash and she turned to Ken with her babyish smile, putting her hand on his arm and shivering in a scared way as she looked down the steep trail.

They lingered behind—but then Eve knew they would. She was learning, she reflected, all of Ken's little tricks. Not so many of them after all; he used a few over and over. Perhaps this was something to be glad about, that if she were always to stand aside while Ken carried on his flirtations she'd not have to be wondering, always speculating on what he was up to. Given one little fact to go upon she could picture everything, follow the progress of his affairs step by step.

At least she could do this while the affairs remained as harmless as this and as the one with Fifi had been. Otherwise . . . She refused to think of that. Ken was square—oh, a little silly sometimes but essentially right. She never would believe anything else. She loved Ken and she would believe nothing that was not fine of him—not ever. . .

For once Eve disregarded the way of the tribe which would have had her trail along home with Nory, and hung around the Hollies, making herself as inconspicuous as she could, a full hour until Ken and Puss appeared. Ken was surprised—she knew this—but for once she intended to have things go as she wished.

"I'm tired," she told him shortly. "Getting up so early and that endless tramp. I'd like you to take me home, Ken."

"Why, of course, sweetheart. Head ache? Oh, too bad—just a second till I call the kid—"

"Never mind the kid."

"But gosh, Eve, how'll she get back? Pierson's gone—"

Already Eve was in the car, in the driver's seat, and had started the engine. Ken stood by glancing at his wife as if he could not make her out, sending bewildered looks toward the crowd on the veranda. He jumped up on the running board as she meshed gears and began to move slowly. Then, "Hi—here she comes—hold it, red—"

And when the car did not stop he reached over and pulled down the power switch, opening the door and sliding in beside Eve, making a place for Puss on the seat between them.

Red and angry, Eve again started the engine and tore along at a furious pace with small regard for the comfort of her passengers. But they were in high spirits and made a great joke of the bumpy, skidding ride. And once they were home Ken tried his hand at getting dinner since Eve refused flatly to do a thing.

Ken put cold meat on the table and bread and butter and iced the coffee, left over from breakfast and Puss helped him, giggling all the while and keeping up her lisp chatter.

"Puss just 'bout most cut little finger. Big mans sorry for poor pussy-puss—"

"Listen!" Eve cried at last. "Do you have to talk that way? Children do it—some children—but you're not a child. If you wouldn't mind—just for tonight, you know?"

"Oh, I say, Eve!" This from Ken who kept looking back and forth between his wife and the girl.

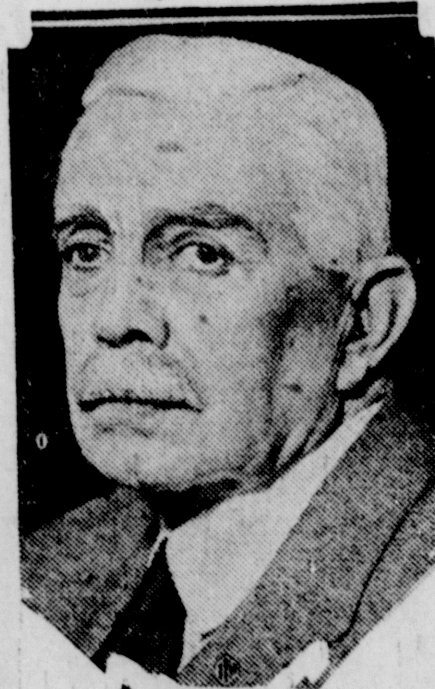

Puss seemed about to cry. She dabbed a piece of lace at her eyes, gulped—and in the end gave them a smile that she meant to be brave. "I—I'm only a silly little thing—really, Mrs. Wilmer—"

"No, you're not," Eve told her in exasperation. "That's what makes it so stupid—because you don't have to act so dumb." They ate almost in silence and Ken took Puss home. He was gone nearly all evening and the moment he came in, standing tense and scornful by the door, Eve knew they would quarrel.

Ken stood by glancing at his wife as if he could not make her out, sending bewildered looks toward the crowd on the veranda. He jumped up on the running board as she meshed gears and began to move slowly. Then, "Hi—here she comes—hold it, red—"

And when the car did not stop he reached over and pulled down the power switch, opening the door and sliding in beside Eve, making a place for Puss on the seat between them.

Red and angry, Eve again started the engine and tore along at a furious pace with small regard for the comfort of her passengers. But they were in high spirits and made a great joke of the bumpy, skidding ride. And once they were home Ken tried his hand at getting dinner since Eve refused flatly to do a thing.

Ken put cold meat on the table and bread and butter and iced the coffee left over from breakfast and Puss helped him, giggling all the while and keeping up her lisp-chatter.

"Puss just 'bout most cut little finger. Big mans sorry for poor pussy-puss—"

"Listen!" Eve cried at last. "Do you have to talk that way? Children do it—some children—but you're not a child. If you wouldn't mind—just for tonight, you know?"

"Oh, I say, Eve!" This from Ken who kept looking back and forth between his wife and the girl.

Puss seemed about to cry. She dabbed a piece of lace at her eyes, gulped—and in the end gave them a smile that she meant to be brave. "I'm only a silly little thing—really, Mrs. Wilmer—"

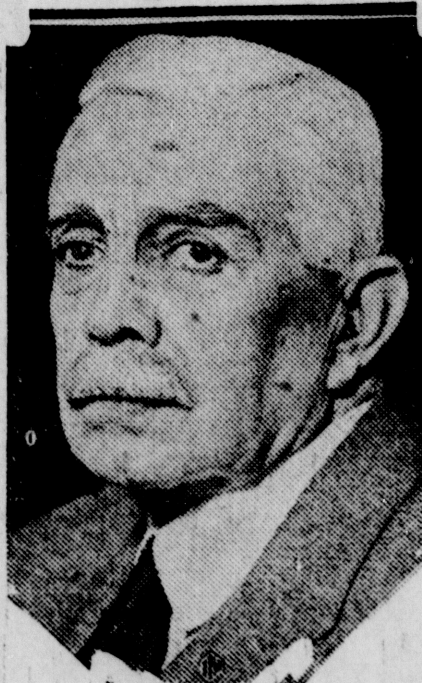

"No, you're not," Eve told her in exasperation. "That's what makes it so stupid—because you don't have to act so dumb."

They ate almost in silence and Ken took Puss home. He was gone nearly all evening and the moment he came in, standing tense and scornful by the door, Eve knew they would quarrel.

Broke, but Lucky

COUNCIL NAMES CITY EMPLOYEES

Reappointments to Office Made; Consider Salaries at Next Regular Meeting

Bids for Paving to be Opened at Adjourned Meeting Next Monday

Reappointments to office for the ensuing year were made by the city council in the following city employees: Clerk—Mrs. E. T. Fleener. Engineer—R. T. Campbell. Dairy Inspector—Dr. R. A. Hallquist. Nurse—Miss Eula Michael. Health Officer—Dr. J. A. Thabes, Jr. Stenographer—A. M. Danska. Fire Chief—Frank Fuller. Fire Truck Drivers—Fred A. Reinhart, Sherman Stein, George Lucas. Janitor and Sanitary Police—L. E. Cameron. Street Foreman—Ole Anderson. Wm. Pfremmer was named caretaker of the city dumping grounds. Salaries of the employees will be set at the next regular meeting of the council.

An ordinance establishing a left inside turn at street intersections where marked was given its final passage. More time was given the property committee in the purchase of slow signs for downtown Brainerd streets. A 20 feet parking space was established in front of the Y. M. C. A. building on South Sixth street for the Northeast Brainerd bus stop. Notice will be sent to officials of the company to park buses there parallel.

On motion of Aldermen Ernest Ritari and Chris Elvig the city engineer was instructed to secure the county grader for the grading of Fifth avenue N. E. from H to L streets. The Cottage Grill was awarded the contract for furnishing meals to prisoners in the city jail at 30 cents a meal.

The application of E. A. Finch for permission to install and operate two pumps at a drive in station at 9th and Front streets was referred to the police committee and the city engineer to report back to the next meeting.

The Brainerd Library Board reported that they were unable to submit their yearly report because their books were in use by the state auditors checking over all city books.

A letter from B. A. Samuelson was read in which the resident objected to the running of dogs at large claiming that damage was being done to lawns and shrubbery. He asked the council to do something about it.

Alderman W. J. Hall expressed himself as favoring a move to prevent dogs from running at large.

"What can the council do to relieve the situation?" Alderman W. J. Lyons asked.

"Raise the license fee," City Clerk Fleener replied.

"You get a license for your automobile, yet that does not give you the privilege of driving through a man's lawn. We don't need dogs here. Keep dogs tied up or repeal the ordinance prohibiting the carrying of firearms so that when stray dogs are doing damage to your property you can shoot them," said Alderman Hall.

"I wouldn't favor the tying up of dogs for the world. How would you feel if you were tied up for six months," said Alderman Lyons.

On motion of Aldermen Elvig and Ritari the communication was laid on the table.

"I suppose the next kick will be about cats," Alderman Ritari offered in conclusion.

The council adjourned to next Monday evening to consider the letting of the contract for paving of three streets.

OLE SAUGE TRIAL OPENS HERE TODAY

Prisoner Appears Little Worried Over Fate, May Not Be Put on Stand

Ole Sauge, charged with manslaughter in connection with the death of Mrs. Wm. Zedrow at Ironton last March, seemed little concerned over his fate as he sat in district court today, the opening of his trial which is expected to last at least three days.

Sauge sat behind his attorney, Elmer Kling of Little Falls, and watched with little interest legal steps of the trial being threshed out.

At noon today nine jurors had been selected. These were Mrs. Marie Temple, Mrs. J. Hill, Mrs. R. L. Taylor, Mrs. Louis Wahlstrom, Mrs. Wm. King, Mrs. R. H. Paine, P. J. Bakken, Frank White and D. T. Lawrence.

Examination of the first witness was expected to start about 4 p. m. today. County Attorney Arthur J. Sullivan is conducting the prosecution. Judge B. F. Wright of Park Rapids is hearing this as well as other criminal cases to come before the court this term.

By examination of jurors Attorney Kling indicated he did not intend to put Sauge on the stand.

The state will endeavor to introduce testimony to show that Sauge, also known as Soggie, made a complete confession of the crime.

OLE SAUGE TRIAL OPENS HERE TODAY

Prisoner Appears Little Worried Over Fate, May Not Be Put on Stand

Ole Sauge, charged with manslaughter in connection with the death of Mrs. Wm. Zedrow at Ironton last March, seemed little concerned over his fate as he sat in district court today, the opening of his trial which is expected to last at least three days.

Sauge sat behind his attorney, Elmer Kling of Little Falls, and watched with little interest legal steps of the trial being threshed out.

At noon today nine jurors had been selected. These were Mrs. Marie Temple, Mrs. J. Hill, Mrs. R. L. Taylor, Mrs. Louis Wahlstrom, Mrs. Wm. King, Mrs. R. H. Paine, P. J. Bakken, Frank White and D. T. Lawrence.

Examination of the first witness was expected to start about 4 p. m. today.

County Attorney Arthur J. Sullivan is conducting the prosecution. Judge B. F. Wright of Park Rapids is hearing this as well as other criminal cases to come before the court this term.

By examination of jurors Attorney Kling indicated he did not intend to put Sauge on the stand.

The state will endeavor to introduce testimony to show that Sauge, also known as Soggie, made a complete confession of the crime.

MAURICE CHEVALIER
in "The Big Pond"
a Paramount Picture

Not Like the Automobile

The American mispronunciation of his name worries Maurice Chevalier, especially since he saw an authentic press report to the effect that a woman in Chicago filed suit for divorce, declaring in her complaint that she quarreled with her husband over the pronunciation of 'Chevalier.'

The famous French song and dance
hero of Paramount films, who is appearing at the Paramount tonight and
Wednesday in "The Big Pond" thinks that it is high time an educational campaign be started to prevent any possible repetition of incidents similar to the Chicago one.

And so he okayed the following phonetic pronunciation of his last name:
"Shev-al-yay"—with a slight accent
on the "al."

SENTENCES

Life is an Echo. What is coming

It takes more than his "pile" to make a person worth while.

He who lives by "passing the buck" will soon have no
bucks to pass.

Advocates Toy Circulation

A probation officer in a children's court suggests that a circulating library of durable toys would be a means of keeping children out of mischief after school hours.

MAURICE CHEVALIER
in "The Big Pond"
a Paramount Picture

Not Like the Automobile

The American mispronunciation of
his name worries Maurice Chevalier,
especially since he saw an authentic
press report to the effect that a woman in Chicago filed suit for divorce, declaring in her complaint that she quarreled with her husband over the pronunciation of "Chevalier."

The famous French song and dance
hero of Paramount films, who is appearing at the Paramount tonight and
Wednesday in "The Big Pond" thinks that it is high time an educational campaign be started to prevent any possible repetition of incidents similar to the Chicago one.

And so he okayed the following
phonetic pronunciation of his last
name:
"Shev-al-yay"—with a slight accent
on the "al."

SIX CYLINDER
SENTENCES

By DR. JOHN W. HOLLAND

Only those who are hungry grow.
Life is an Echo. What is coming back to you?

It takes more than his "pile" to make a person worth while.
Investments in the coming generation will pay the highest interest.

He who lives by "passing the
buck" will soon have no
bucks to pass.

Keep your feet on the ground.
Old hens are mighty flighty,
but they can't fly.

Ends Piles Quick

No Salves or Cutting

Piles are caused by congestion of blood in the lower bowel. Only an internal medicine can remove the cause.
That's why salves and cutting fail.
That's why HEM-ROID, the prescription of Dr. J.
S. Leonard, removes this congestion and strengthens the affected parts.

HEM-ROID is now sold by druggists everywhere, and has such a wonderful record of success even in chronic and stubborn cases that H. P.
Dunn and Johnson's Pharmacy invite every Pile sufferer to try HEM-ROID and guarantee money-back if it does not end all Pile misery. advt.
